The drawings are objected to because the characters and legends in figure 2 are too small. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The examiner acknowledges receipt of an information disclosure statement on 14 Nov. 2003. An initialed copy of the citation form should accompany this letter.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by Wang et al (US 6,515,542). Wang discloses each item of these claims. The use of "diplexing" in claim 1 line 7 does not alter this reading since it is a verb and the full method plus function is diplexing to produce a sum "signal + noise signal" and Wang clearly sums the input and band-limited noise signals.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 15-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wang et al (US 6,515,542) in view of Chemin et al. (US 4,263,617). Wang discloses the claimed subject matter with the exception of a diplexer to combine the desired signal and filtered noise signal to produce a sum signal. Chemin discloses a diplexer providing a sum signal for subsequent use. Exchange of one known component for another known component perform the same type of function would have been obvious to one of skill in the art because the frequency selective nature of a diplexer would provide an additional filtering of the noise to ensure that the noise signal did not overlap the frequency band of interest of the desired signal. Filtering a signal is a time-honored way of doing just that.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Keller (US 5,675,335) and Kasson (US 3,999,129) each disclose a dither addition system where a band-limited noise signal is controllably amplified and summed with an input signal of interest.
